Utah Legal Services holds free “pro se” legal clinics statewide where an attorney and volunteers will offer instruction, answer questions, and help complete legal documents for civil legal proceedings. See Page 5 for listings. Due to schedule changes, the most current list can be found at www.andjusticeforall.org/uls.

Disability Law Center

800-662-9080 (voice) or 800-550-4182 (TTY)

www.disabilitylawcenter.org

The Disability Law Center is Utah's federally mandated Protection and Advocacy agency established in 1978 and serves clients with disabilities statewide. Any individual with a legal issue related to a disability is eligible for the services of the Disability Law Center, no matter his/her ability to pay. They provide information, referral, self-advocacy training and technical assistance state-wide in the following areas:

◆ Abuse and Neglect

- Fighting abuse and neglect of people with disabilities in the state's long-term care and community-based facilities.

◆ Access and Rights

- Fighting discrimination in housing, transportation, private business and public services.

◆ Assistive Technology

- Ensuring access to technology to help people with disabilities stay healthy, receive an education and succeed on the job.

◆ Community Services

- Ensuring full inclusion for Utahns with mental illness and developmental disabilities.

◆ Education

- Ensuring free and appropriate public education for children with disabilities.

◆ Employment

- Ensuring access to services and programs that can help individuals seek and retain employment including Vocational Rehabilitation and Independent Living.

◆ Institutions

- Fighting abuse and neglect in Utah institutions and ensuring that appropriate accommodations and mental health services are provided.

◆ Short-Term Assistance

- Provides self-advocacy support and short-term and immediate assistance to clients.

Salt Lake Community Action Program

(801) 359-2444

www.slcap.org

A non-profit organization that provides a range of services aimed at helping low-income people become self-sufficient. They provide direct services dealing with early childhood education, housing and utility assistance, emergency food pantries, and employment assistance. Salt Lake CAP also provides a landlord-tenant mediation program to prevent eviction in collaboration with the State Court System. For information concerning this mediation program, please call Josie Turner at (801) 359-2444 ext. 225.

Utah Community Action Partnership Association

(801) 433-3025

www.utahcap.org

Works with and on behalf of Utah's nine local community action agencies to address the causes and effects of poverty in Utah. The model of community action brings together low-income individuals with public and private sector partners to identify local priorities and strategies for achieving measurable improvements in lives and communities.

747 East South Temple, Ste 100

Salt Lake City, UT

The only statewide, multi-issue child advocacy organization that speaks out on behalf of children. A credible, nonpartisan, and forceful voice for children and families. For more than twenty years, Voices for Utah Children has improved children's lives by combining policy expertise with the power of strategic communications and advocacy to achieve real results.

Misc. Services

Salt Lake Peer Court Program

(801) 322-1802

www.saltlakepeercourt.org

Salt Lake Peer Court offers an alternative approach to juvenile justice in which youth referred for minor offenses are sentenced by a jury of their peers. Peer Court employs a restorative justice-based approach that applies the skills and abilities of Salt Lake City high school students to provide positive peer influence, hold youth accountable for their actions, and strengthen their ties to school and community. As a prevention program, Peer Court deals with early and persistent antisocial behavior of youth who might not otherwise be held accountable for their actions.

University of Utah Low-Income Taxpayer Clinic (LITC)

801.581-7221

<http://org.business.utah.edu/litc/>

The Utah LITC provides FREE tax assistance to low-income taxpayers, evaluated on a person-by-person basis.

The Utah LITC Management Team consists of a Program Director, experienced tax faculty, and University of Utah Business Students. We offer assistance to low income taxpayers in the greater Salt Lake area.

J. Reuben Clark Society

Pro bono attorneys assist low-income individuals with legal problems and give legal advice. See your church leader for more information. No religious affiliation required.

Glossary/Definition of Terms

Advocacy: Supporting a cause or proposal.

Civil Stalking: A credible threat to another person and, in connection with the threat, repeatedly following that person or repeatedly making any form of communication with that person or a member of that person's immediate family, whether or not a conversation occurs.

Consumer Law: Collection abuse, bankruptcy, faulty goods or services, credit discrimination, excessive interest.

Dispute Resolution: A method of resolving disputes outside the traditional legal and court system. Mediation is the most common form of dispute resolution.

Domestic Violence: Harm or threat of harm by an individual against a cohabitant (spouse, former spouse, have a child together, lived in same residence, related by blood or marriage).

Estate Planning: The process of planning the transfer of all personal assets at death to chosen beneficiaries.

Family Law: Divorce, paternity, custody, and guardianships.

Guardian Ad Litem: A special guardian appointed by the court to represent a child in cases involving parental neglect, abuse or abandonment.

Guardian or Guardianship: When the court appoints someone to care for a child or other person who cannot care for himself or herself.

Injunction: Judge's order to do or to refrain from doing a specified thing. For example, a court might issue an injunction ordering a landlord to restore heat to a tenant's apartment even though the tenant's rent is overdue.

Litigant: A person involved in a lawsuit, usually referred to as a "party" to the lawsuit. A party can be either the plaintiff or defendant.

Glossary/Definition of Terms

Living Will: Also known as a healthcare directive, a living will is a document that goes into effect while you are still alive. It declares that you do not want to be kept alive by artificial life support systems. A living will usually becomes effective when your condition is hopeless and you have no reasonable chance of recovery to a life you consider meaningful.

Mediation: Informal alternative to suing in which both sides to a dispute meet with a neutral third party (mediator) to negotiate a resolution. The resolution is usually put into a written agreement that is signed by both sides.

Pro Se: A Latin phrase meaning "for himself" or "in one's own behalf." This term denotes a person who represents herself in court. Also called Self-Represented.

Protective Order: A civil court order that keeps an abuser from harming or contacting a victim of domestic violence including not going to the home, work, school etc.

Will: A document in which you specify what is to be done with property owned only by oneself when at death and to name an executor. A will can also name a guardian for minor, dependent children.
